

What We Do

Dean Information Systems handles your entire digital presence under one roof: domain registration, custom website, company email, security lockdown, and our own penetration testing before anything goes live. One team, one contact, one honest invoice. We do not use templates and we do not sell your data to brokers.

Our Packages

Every package is all-inclusive. The build fee is one-time. The monthly fee covers hosting, security maintenance, SSL renewal, backups, software updates, and real human support when something goes wrong.

Our Commitments

We Want to Work With You, In Your Budget

We built this company to serve real businesses: the barbershop, the bakery, the two-person law firm. Every dollar matters when you are running lean, and we refuse to let a tight budget be the reason you stay invisible online.

If our packages do not fit where you are right now, tell us. We will find something that works, or point you somewhere that can.

Our promise:

- We will tell you what you need, not what earns us the most.
- We will be upfront if our services are not the best option for you.
- No pressure, no hidden fees, no surprises after you sign.
- We will always find a way to help you get some digital visibility.

Pricing Transparency

Every quote is itemized. You will know exactly what you are paying for and why. If scope changes mid-project, we talk about it before we bill for it. There are no surprise invoices.

Build fees cover design and development. Monthly fees cover hosting, security patches, SSL renewals, backups, and human support when something goes sideways.

Your Data Stays Yours

We do not sell your data. Ever.

Many large platforms keep costs low by monetizing your data through broker networks. We do not. What you share with us stays with us. That is not a premium feature. It is just how we operate.
